The wheat crop
It is feared by a great many farmers that all the late wheat will be ruined by the [word unclear] early wheat is so near bright that it is hoped and believed that it will not be injured.

Some of the farmers have already commenced reaping. The corn crop looks very promising Oats also look well now cotton is too small to tell how it looks.

The Canvass
Misters Ellis & McRae have gone into the canvass strong already it will be seen by our advertising columns that they have made several new appointments. The daily papers are crowded with an account of their discussions at various places, from what we can learn, Mr. E generally gets Mr. McRae by the distribution question.

We learned that Mr. Belden is not a candidate for Sheriff as we were informed last week. But will see his friends between now and June. [word unclear] and consult the matter over and if they decide on him he will serve then and if not he will give place to somebody else.

The British seems to be still trying to get into a fuss with us by committing outrages on our vessels in the gulf.
Abroad

The bones of Eathan Allen a revolutionary memory have been stolen from the grave.

It is reported that the secretary of the Navy has declined sending another vessel to aid in laying the atla-ntic telegraphic cable.

"A little nonsense now and then is relished our wisest men"

Stop him! Miss, can I have the exquisite pleasure of rolling the wheel of conversation around the axle tree of your understanding for a few moments this evening? The lady fainted.

-A lawyer having some business with a widow lady had occasion to ask her age, that's fine answered the lady trying to look young, the lawyer then turned to her daughter and asked how old she was. Oh! only thirty two, three years younger than Ma.
