

JSTOR Exporting Citations

1. JSTOR: Exporting citations.
2. One of the nice features about JSTOR is that allows to export our citations into RefWorks.
3. From the article that we want to cite, we go to the upper right hand corner where there is a box and select the "Export Citation" link.
4. The next screen gives us options as to how we want to export our citations. We want to select the "RefWorks" link.
5. When we do this the computer will open up RefWorks. We need to log in using our RefWorks account information.
6. Once we do this RefWorks will import the citation information from JSTOR.